Dear Doctor:

From the tenor of your note of yesterday, I infer that Dr. Cbellings supposed the Art Committee were disposed to recommend the purchase of the Laurens painting. I had no such thought; and I know no reason why it should not be returned to the owners, with notice that the Board of Trustees decline to purchase it. Yrs. to J. H. C.

RULES FOR THE ADMISSION OF WORKS OF ART

TO THE

Corcoran Gallery of Art

Adopted by the Board of Trustees, March 8, 1878.

1. Pictures offered for exhibition, properly framed and in suitable condition, shall be placed in the Trustees' room for inspection by the Committee on Works of Art, and, if approved, shall be assigned a place by the Curator, who shall have them hung under the direction of the same committee.
2. No Works of Art admitted to the Gallery shall be removed in less than thirty (30) days after being deposited, or remain longer than four (4) months, except by the consent of the Committee on Works of Art.
3. At the expiration of the time stipulated for the exhibition of any Work of Art, the owner, or his representative, shall be requested by the Curator to remove the same; and if he fail to comply with this request, it shall be the duty of the Curator to have the said work, properly protected, stored in some suitable place, the entire cost of which shall be charged to the owner, and for the payment of which charges the work shall be retained as security, and if the property so stored be not redeemed in a reasonable time by the reimbursement of the entire expenses of removal and storage, then it shall be lawful for the Trustees to sell such works at public sale, after reasonable public notice, for cash, and hold the residue, after the payment of the expenses and storage aforesaid, subject to the order of the owner, or his representative.
4. The Gallery shall be at no expense for Works of Art on exhibition or stored away, or responsible for any damage by fire, or otherwise, ordinary care having been taken of them.
5. These rules shall be subscribed by all persons whose works shall be hereafter admitted, and the same shall thereupon become a contract between them and the Trustees, legally binding on both, and also binding on the heirs, executors, administrators, and assigns of the depositor or owner of the work put on exhibition.
6. No deviation shall be made herefrom without the consent of the Board of Trustees.

It is agreed, and is part of the consideration of this Contract:

1. That all goods received for transportation shall be properly packed, and distinctly marked with the name of the consignee and the station where consigned.
 2. That the Baltimore and Potomac Railroad Company shall not be responsible for the melting of ice; decay or injury to perishable articles from heat or cold; deficiency of measurement on delivery of grain, feed or similar articles in bulk; or for any loss, injury, or damage from the dangers of railroad transportation, explosions, fire in stores, depots, or in transit, leakage, breakage, theft, or from any cause whatever, unless the same be proved to have occurred from the fraud or gross negligence of said Company or its servants; nor liable for any damage to glass or fragile articles, unless herein specially insured. Machinery, Furniture, Stoves, Agricultural Implements, and all similar articles, when not packed in boxes, will always be at owner's risk of breakage from handling or any other cause. And when goods are entrusted to any other Company or person (which said Baltimore and Potomac Railroad Company is hereby authorized to do), such Company or person so selected shall be regarded exclusively as the agent of the owner, and as such alone liable; and the Baltimore and Potomac Railroad Company shall not in any event be responsible for the negligence or non-performance of any such Company or person; nor in any event shall the Baltimore and Potomac Railroad Company be liable for any loss or damage unless the claim therefor shall be presented to them in writing, at the office of said Company in Baltimore, within five days after the time when said property has or ought to have been delivered. The goods transported shall be subject to a lien—and may also be retained—for all arrearages of freight and charges due on other goods by the same consignee or owner. Freight to be paid upon the weight of goods as ascertained by the Company's scales.
 3. Storage will be charged on goods allowed to remain over twenty-four hours in the depots or warehouses of said Company.
 4. Articles coopered will be charged therewith.
 5. Gunpowder, Gun Cotton, Friction Matches, and like combustibles are not received or transported under this contract.
 6. Goods at private sidings shall be at the owner's risk until attached to, and after they are detached from, the train.
 7. All articles will be at the risk of the owners at the several "way stations" and platforms where depot buildings have not been established by the Company, from the moment such articles are delivered from the cars as directed or marked.
 8. The responsibility of the Company under this Bill of Lading to commence upon the shipment of the goods from this station, and to terminate when unloaded from the cars.
-  Pig Iron, Blooms, or Anconies, and all other articles in Third or Fourth Classes, marked thus* on Tariff of Rates, must be loaded and unloaded by the shipper or consignee. If the service is performed by the Company, the expense thereof will be charged and collected with the cost of transportation. It must be fully understood that the freight on all such articles will be charged according to their weight on the scales of the Company.

—A NEW UNITED STATES HISTORY ON A NEW PLAN.—

A

Popular School History of the United States,

IN WHICH ARE INSERTED, AS PART OF THE NARRATIVE,

SELECTIONS FROM THE WRITINGS OF EMINENT AMERICAN HISTORIANS, AND OTHER AMERICAN WRITERS OF NOTE.

TO WHICH ARE ADDED

THE DECLARATION OF INDEPENDENCE, AND THE CONSTITUTION OF THE UNITED STATES, WITH COPIOUS NOTES.

FULLY ILLUSTRATED WITH MAPS, PORTRAITS, AND VIEWS.

By JOHN J. ANDERSON, PH.D.,

Author of "Grammar School History of the United States," a "Manual of General History," a "History of England," a "History of France," "The Historical Reader," "The United States Reader," etc., etc.

A TEXT-BOOK upon the history of our country so compiled as to be a pleasant reading-book, with enough variety to give it all the interest properly belonging to a reading-book, and, at the same time, contain all the United States history that is required for ordinary school purposes, has long been desired by many teachers.

It has been the aim of the author of this work to meet this want by weaving in as a part of the narrative long extracts from the writings of eminent authors, so that nearly all the great events of our country's history are given in the words of Bancroft, Prescott, Irving, Motley, Hawthorne, Parkman, Palfrey, or other distinguished writers; thus making a very interesting and fascinating volume. This has been so skilfully done that no break occurs in the continuity of the history.

It has been the aim of the writer to give only those events that were important in themselves, or that had an important bearing upon or relation to important results. It will be seen, then, that very much of that which finds a place in the ordinary school history is not found here. Details, except as far as they are necessary to the proper understanding of what should be known, are entirely omitted. Generally, they are not worth knowing, and, consequently, no time should be spent in lumbering the mind with them. For the same reason, dates have been given sparingly. The most prominent, those that mark the great events, are clearly given, while other events are regarded as contributing to or resulting from these. More prominence has been given to the facts that have to do with the nation's progress in civil matters than to those of a military character. Therefore, the invention of the cotton-gin and the magnetic telegraph and the construction of railroads and steamboats, with the changes resulting therefrom, have been regarded and treated as of more value than the numerous small battles that in nowise modified the tendency of great events.

The numerous maps in the work cover all the geography belonging to the events narrated that have occurred within the limits of the United States or Mexico.

The volume is amply provided with Chronological Tables, Summaries, etc., etc., which so peculiarly characterize the histories of this author.

360 pages, 12mo. Price, for Introduction, $1.00.

Price, in exchange for old book in use, 50 cents.

Books ordered for introduction will be delivered at above-named price in any part of the United States. A sample copy for examination, with a view to introduction, will be sent by mail to teacher or school-officer, on receipt of the introduction price. Address

CLARK & MAYNARD, PUBLISHERS,

NEW YORK

The new edition of this book contains all the questions in United States history used for examinations during the last ten years by the Regents of the State of New York, and by the two colleges belonging to the public school system of New York city.

A FEW OPINIONS IN REGARD TO ANDERSON'S POPULAR U. S. HISTORY.

From ARIEL PARISH, Supt. of Public Schools, New Haven, Conn.

"It was a happy conception of Mr. Anderson to combine history and choice specimens of some fifty of the foremost writers of this country, so deftly interwoven as to make a charming History of the United States. A Popular History of the United States it can hardly fail to be, both as a book for schools and general readers who wish to get a clear outline of this country's history in the briefest space, in the choicest language, and from most reliable authorities. A history like this, comprising a multitude of interesting incidents clothed in language elegant yet easily comprehended, cannot fail to be attractive to youth and 'children of an older growth.'

"Teachers will find in it very valuable hints and directions for imparting instruction; and pupils will be able from the 'Summary' and 'Topics for Review' to fix in mind a clear outline of the subject so associated as to be interesting and easily remembered.

"I most cordially commend it to the careful attention of teachers."

From Pres. WM. M. BROOKS, Tabor College, Tabor, Iowa.

"I am very much pleased with your Popular School History of the United States. It deserves a wide circulation."

From J. H. DAVIS, Supt. of Public Schools, Somerville, Mass.

"I have examined your Popular School History of the United States with much interest, and regard it as one of the best of the numerous histories which have been prepared for the use of the schools.

"The arrangement in every particular is excellent. The 'Hints for Teaching the History,' the 'Selections and Authors,' 'Models for Written Exercises,' 'General Summaries,' and 'Topics for Review,' are all features of special interest, and add great value to the work as a text-book.

"I should be pleased to see it in the schools under my supervision."

From N. LEAVENWORTH, A.B., Prin. of Worcester Academy, Worcester, Mass.

"I find it a book of fascinating interest. . . . We can readily find here, I think, a place for the book, and a large place too."

From THOMAS TASH, Supt. of Public Schools, Portland, Me.

"I am greatly pleased with both the design and the execution of it. The matter which you have selected for it is the best that can be found, and you have woven it together most admirably. The free use of the quotation-marks, and the authorities given, add much to the value of the book. I know of no book from which I would so soon teach a class in United States history as from this history of yours."

From SARAH E. RAYMOND, Supt. of Public Schools, Bloomington, Ill.

"I have placed your history in the hands of some of my teachers as a reference-book. I have hoped in some way, and at some time, to have my classes enjoy the benefits of so superior a text-book."

From MARTIN R. ANDREWS, Supt. of Public Schools, Steubenville, Ohio.

"I have carefully read your Popular School History of the United States, and am delighted with it."

From W. H. PAYNE, Supt. of Public Schools, Adrian, Mich.

"I am delighted with your new United States History. You have been very fortunate both in what you have omitted and in what you have included. The selections are all admirable, and you have shown rare skill in giving perfect continuity to the narrative while allowing so many distinguished authors to contribute to the general theme. The book is full of life and interest, and is by far the best book of its kind that has come under my notice."

From Hon. F. S. CARR, State Supt. of Public Instruction, Sacramento, Cal.

"Your Popular School History of the United States is admirably adapted to the purposes intended."

From EDWARD BROOKS, Prin. State Normal School, Millersville, Pa.

"I have examined the book and like it. It is judicious in the selection of its facts, and interesting and life-like in its style; and contains just those things that a pupil should know and which he will be most likely to remember."

From Pres. GEO. F. MAGOUN, Iowa College, Grinnell, Iowa.

"I have gone through your Popular School History of the United States as desired, and judge it to be unusually well adapted to its purpose. Enough and not too much is set forth, and the 'Summaries by Colonies,' 'General Summaries,' and lists of 'Topics for Review,' all make the teacher's work orderly and profitable to pupils. The maps are ingenious and the illustrations plentiful and good."

From J. C. GREENOUGH, Prin. State Normal School, Providence, R. I.

"The plan is unique and admirable. In the hands of a good teacher it will render admirable service. The high literary value of the book should secure a large place for it in our schools."

From U. T. CURRAN, Supt. of Public Schools, Sandusky, Ohio.

"I have examined your history and think it a very excellent work. The plan is certainly original."

From J. C. JONES, Supt. of Public Schools, East Saginaw, Mich.

"I hope some time to make practical use of the book. I hardly think school-boards or teachers will go amiss in selecting it for a text-book in school."

From JOHN C. MAGILL, Supt. of Public Schools, Ypsilanti, Mich.

"I like it very much. As a reader it is certainly fascinating; as a history it is doubtless sufficient to meet the wants of our schools."

From HENRY E. SHEPHERD, Supt. of Public Schools, Baltimore, Md.

"I am pleased with the style and character of the book, its animated and sprightly narrative, and its absence of cumbersome details. It seems to me well adapted to school use."

From Hon. S. R. THOMPSON, State Supt. of Public Instruction, Lincoln, Neb.

"It seems to me that the idea of a condensed series of selections woven into a continuous history is a good one. I like it every way, and feel quite sure that the venture will be a success. I have met with nothing in the way of a brief history of the United States that pleases me more."

A FEW OPINIONS IN REGARD TO ANDERSON'S POPULAR U. S. HISTORY.

From W. T. HARRIS, Supt. of Schools, St. Louis, Mo.

"I have just found time to examine your new Popular School History of the United States. I see that you have adopted in it the excellent plan of inserting, as a part of the narrative, selections from the writings of eminent American historical writers. This feature alone seems to render the book more valuable than other text-books on American History. Your 'Hints for Teaching History' are very valuable. The 'Summaries,' 'Topics for Review,' model compositions, maps, and analyses are well made and useful. The prominence you have given to facts of social progress—inventions and manners—is in the highest degree commendable. The size, too, for our grammar schools is just the thing. In all I consider this by far the best book on our history to introduce into our common schools, and I desire to thank you for your valuable labors in making the history of our native country so attractive and instructive to the youth of the land."

From H. N. FRENCH, Supt. of Schools, Marshall, Mich.

"I have submitted it to my head teacher, who pronounces upon it in most commendatory terms, and who expresses a decided preference for it over the one at present used with us. The work is exceptionally meritorious both in what it contains and also in what it omits. In the class-room it cannot fail to at once make teachers and pupils its friends."

From AUSTIN GEORGE, Supt. of Schools, Kalamazoo, Mich.

"I have just examined the book, and I am very much pleased with it. I think it can be used with great advantage by advanced classes. I have turned with special interest to Louisiana purchase and acquisition of Oregon, in which I find this book more complete than any other I have seen.

"Your work cannot but facilitate the study of the history of our country. I hope some day to try it in the class-room."

From F. P. ADAMS, Prin. Central Normal College, Danville, Ind.

"I have thoroughly examined your new Popular School History of the U. S., and find that it is unsurpassed by any work of the size which I have seen."

From C. E. SMITH, A.M., Supt. of Schools, Lyons, Iowa.

"I have examined Anderson's Popular School History of the U. S., and I find it a work of great merit. I would be glad to see it in all the schools of this city."

From D. C. STONE, Ass't Supt. of Schools, San Francisco, Cal.

"The copy of your last and very valuable historical text-book came duly to hand. I am much pleased with it, and regard it as an interesting and useful addition to our school-books on this subject. A judicious use of this book would divest the study of its monotony and render it much more effective than it now is."

From JOSEPH F. LUKENS, Lebanon, Ohio.

"I heartily welcome the Popular History to the first place among our school histories. I have no doubt it will be widely used."

From JOHN P. PATTERSON, Supt. of Schools, Washington C. H., Ohio.

"Anderson's Popular History of the United States commends itself to me as the best book extant on our country's history. One readily sees the beautiful mechanism, appropriate extent, literary merits, and close analysis and connection of parts. Invaluable aids are interlaced with the text, such as 'Selections and Authors,' 'Summaries of Discoveries and Claims,' 'Topics for Review,' 'Models for Writing Exercises,' etc."

From ROBERT CURRY, Prin. of Neb. State Normal School, Peru, Neb.

"I have examined with considerable care your Popular School History of the United States. I am much pleased with its plan and execution. In the hands of a skilful teacher it can be made to serve well as a text-book for History, Geography, Reading, and American Literature. It is admirably adapted as a text-book, and in many of our schools it will obviate the necessity of buying several additional books otherwise needed."

From H. J. CLARK, Supt. of Schools, Oberlin, Ohio.

"The simplicity of style and clearness of expression will make the book eminently popular. I have set my own children to studying it in vacation spare hours. I am free to say that I have seen no history of the United States better adapted to the use of children. Your publishers also have left nothing to be desired in the execution of the work."

From KEMP P. BATTLE, Pres. of Univ. of N. C., Chapel Hill, N. C.

"I have examined your Popular School History of the U. S., and am exceedingly pleased with it. The clear style, the great amount of information given in a manner most interesting, the arrangement of the subjects, the judicious 'Summaries,' 'Topics for Review,' the numerous maps and engravings, the short account of American historians, and extracts from their writings skilfully interwoven with the text, the calm unbiassed judicial tone in treatment of all topics, make this an uncommonly valuable school-book."

From ROBT M. LUSHER, State Supt. of Public Education, New Orleans, La.

"The insertion of selections from other historians and writers is a new and original feature of the work, and I am satisfied that the 'Summaries' also introduced, with 'Topics for Review,' etc., must make it a most useful and zeal-inspiring manual of History for Elementary Schools."

From J. C. GILCHRIST, A.M., Prin. of State Normal School, Cedar Falls, Iowa.

"I am highly pleased with it indeed. I have taken time to run through it and get the plan on which it is built. The plan of reviews, the selection of matter, the excellent style, the good mechanical execution and attractive appearance place your book in the very front of our long line of excellent text-books on United States History. It will be a source of pleasure to pupils and teachers who may be fortunate enough to use it."

NOT NEGOTIABLE

BALTIMORE & POTOMAC RAILROAD COMPANY

It is agreed, and is part of the consideration of this Contract:

1. That all goods received for transportation shall be properly packed, and distinctly marked with the name of the consignee and the station where consigned.
 2. That the Baltimore and Potomac Railroad Company shall not be responsible for the melting of ice; decay or injury to perishable articles from heat or cold; deficiency of measurement on delivery of grain, feed or similar articles in bulk; or for any loss, injury, or damage from the dangers of railroad transportation, explosions, fire in stores, depots, or in transit, leakage, breakage, theft, or from any cause whatever, unless the same be proved to have occurred from the fraud or gross negligence of said Company or its servants; nor liable for any damage to glass or fragile articles, unless herein specially insured. Machinery, Furniture, Stoves, Agricultural Implements, and all similar articles, when not packed in boxes, will always be at owner's risk of breakage from handling or any other cause. And when goods are entrusted to any other Company or person (which said Baltimore and Potomac Railroad Company is hereby authorized to do), such Company or person so selected shall be regarded exclusively as the agent of the owner, and as such alone liable; and the Baltimore and Potomac Railroad Company shall not in any event be responsible for the negligence or non-performance of any such Company or person; nor in any event shall the Baltimore and Potomac Railroad Company be liable for any loss or damage unless the claim therefor shall be presented to them in writing, at the office of said Company in Baltimore, within five days after the time when said property has or ought to have been delivered. The goods transported shall be subject to a lien—and may also be retained—for all arrearages of freight and charges due on other goods by the same consignee or owner. Freight to be paid upon the weight of goods as ascertained by the Company's scales.
 3. Storage will be charged on goods allowed to remain over twenty-four hours in the depots or warehouses of said Company.
 4. Articles coopered will be charged therewith.
 5. Gunpowder, Gun Cotton, Friction Matches, and like combustibles are not received or transported under this contract.
 6. Goods at private sidings shall be at the owner's risk until attached to, and after they are detached from, the train.
 7. All articles will be at the risk of the owners at the several "way stations" and platforms where depot buildings have not been established by the Company, from the moment such articles are delivered from the cars as directed or marked.
 8. The responsibility of the Company under this Bill of Lading to commence upon the shipment of the goods from this station, and to terminate when unloaded from the cars.
-  Pig Iron, Blooms, or Anconies, and all other articles in Third or Fourth Classes, marked thus* on Tariff of Rates, must be loaded and unloaded by the shipper or consignee. If the service is performed by the Company, the expense thereof will be charged and collected with the cost of transportation. It must be fully understood that the freight on all such articles will be charged according to their weight on the scales of the Company.
